

Maish Comforts

You should see these famous Comforts. The Maish is wonderfully warm, yet lighter than ordinary Comforts. It is made of one continuous piece, the exact size of the finished Comfort, the same fluffy, downy thickness throughout—no lumps, no thin places. We have a fine assortment in silkline and satine, handsome patterns, at $1.75, 2.25, 2.75, 3.00, 3.50 and 4.00. Cut Blanket in silklines and satines at $1.50 and 2.00.

PERRY & CAMP,

Telephone 9-4. 71 and 75 Main Street, Barre, Vt.

JUST A WORD

About Repairing Your Furniture

We know it's a little early to speak about spring repairs, but we know that we can attend to your work more promptly and surely do it as well, right now. We hope you will look over your worn pieces and those that are loose and needs gluing and just call up 218 11 for the team to call for them.

B. W. HOOKER & CO., Barre, Vt.

CITY UNDERTAKERS

Improved Ambulance Service. Orders Promptly Attended To

The Ethics of Kissing.
A Vienna magistrate has been called upon to decide whether kissing in the street is an offense against public morality.

Arnold Schmidt, a university student, was taking a fond leave of his sweetheart at the door of her house. This so checked a clerk who saw the embrace that he complained to the police, and Schmidt was arrested for a breach of the public morals. He pleaded in court that his kiss was a token of respect to the maiden. An elderly splinter living in the house opposite, who had been an involuntary witness of the scene, told the magistrate amid much laughter that she indignantly withdrew from the window at once, because, she said, "kissing was not aesthetic."

The court, after much deliberation, dismissed the case, holding that kissing was no transgression of common morals.

New Use For an Old Abuse.
Miss Judge (as the cat was carefully washing itself)—Isn't it too bad that Folly Gass wasn't born a cat?
Mrs. Everything—Why?
Miss Judge—Then she could use her tongue on herself—Bohemian Magazine.

POST CARDS

We have the largest and most complete and varied line of Post Cards in the city.

They range in subjects from local views of the city and state, to scenes of national interest to memento cards and to the better class of comic ones.

Birthday cards and apt special holiday cards on display.

Post Cards are a faithful friend, getter and keeper. A little remembrance worth the name.

Prices from two cards for 5c and all in-between figures up to 50c each.

O. J. DODGE, The Jeweler,
200 Main St. With Ideal Book Store.

"Billicocks."
C. A. Phillips, who died recently, was a principal in a well known firm of Nuneaton hatmakers. The business was established about two centuries ago at Atherstone and subsequently passed by purchase into the hands of a Joseph Willday, whose family conducted it for more than a hundred years. As early as 1745 the round hats made of soft felt, then known as "Atherstone cocks," were not only sold largely in Great Britain, but sent to the American plantations. Mr. Willday so increased the manufacture of these cheap felt hats that they became known as "Willday cocks," from which arose the term "Billicocks." The English armies which fought in America, India and at Waterloo were supplied with hats from Willday's factory—London Express.

"I want an airship, hubby."
"What for?"
"So we can look down on our neighbors."—Philadelphia Press.

Thud.
It was the hour of lemonade, etc., at the Aero club.
"I haven't heard Flyte talking about his monoplane lately. Has he dropped it?" Gass inquired.
"No," said Bags; "it dropped him."—Puck.

SPECIAL SIX DAYS' SALE Of Enameled Ware

Not clean ups of old stocks but new, fresh, high grade goods right out of the case bought especially for this sale. The assortment consists of Pans, Pudding Pans, Wash Basins, Sauce Pans, Stew Kettles, Spoons, Dippers, Cups, Mixing Bowls, Pails, Tea Kettles, Double Cookers, Dish Pans, Tea and Coffee Pots, Double Self-Basting Roasters, divided as follows:

One lot, choice 10c. One lot, choice 19c. One lot, choice 29c. One lot, choice 39c. One lot, choice 59c.

Every day Self Basting Roasters, only 49c. Regular price of this Roaster is $1.00.

See our window, then step in side and see the balance of display

C. N. KENYON & CO.'S
CASH BARGAIN STORE.
185-187 North Main Street. (Telephone 123-12) Barre, Vermont.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Sale of infants' coats at Vaughan's.

Miss Josephine Kirby visited friends in Richmond yesterday.

Harold Turney visited at his home in Middlebury over Sunday.

Buy one of those $2.50 coats at Perry's while they are going.

George Donahue of Northfield visited friends in this city Saturday.

Dan A. Perry went to Boston to-day on a few days' business trip.

W. E. Dufur went to Northfield this afternoon on a business visit.

Herman Campbell went to Northfield this morning on a business visit.

Joseph Fraser left yesterday for a visit with relatives in Washington, D. C.

The Philomathians will meet with Mrs. O. H. Hall Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock.

S. D. Allen left Saturday for business visits in Waltham and White River Junction.

Joseph St. John left Saturday for a two weeks' visit with relatives in Champlain, N. Y.

John J. Hartigan returned Saturday night from a three weeks' visit with relatives in Boston.

Mrs. Jessie Pike of Waterbury spent Sunday as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. Frank Perry of Spaulding street.

G. A. Wilkinson moved Saturday from Averill street into his new house at the corner of South Main and Glenwood avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Papin, who have been visiting relatives in this city, returned Saturday to their home in Burlington.

Notice—All those who have coupons on the Pitt's piano to sell, bring to C. D. Travers, City Auction Rooms, Pearl street.

The Clover club will observe Domestic Science day at the home of Mrs. H. O. Worthen, Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 19th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Lost: Ladies' Elgin gold watch and gold fob, in front of eldied, McWhorter's or Moore & Owen's stores. Will finder please return to Times office.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gow left Friday night for Toronto, Canada, where they will be for a week, Mr. Gow being called there by the sudden death of his brother.

By public request the Scotch dance will hold a amusements ball in Miller's hall, February 13th. Committee in charge, George Fowler and William Thompson.

Another sale of 10c pictures now on step inside, where you will find one of our mammoth tables heavily loaded with a fine assortment. C. N. Kenyon & Co's Bargain Store.

The Scotch dance was well attended by the usual crowd, Saturday night. Music for dancing was furnished by the Scotch orchestra, and a good time was enjoyed by all. George Fowler was floor manager.

"The Modern Sewing society will meet with Mrs. M. T. Page, Monday night at 7 o'clock, and Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the Universalist church, every at 7 o'clock. Watch for the programme tomorrow."

Special meeting of the Ladies of the Ladies of the Ladies will be held Monday evening, January 18, at seven o'clock in the R. of P. hall, for service and any other necessary business. A large attendance is desired.

Miss Gladys Gale returned from Boston Saturday night, where she has been for the past few months studying the Childs Garden course of Miss J. A. Jones and studying organ and piano under the direction of Mr. Arthur Foote of Boston.

The Montpelier Division A. O. H. No. 1, and L. A. A. O. H. No. 2, hereby extend an invitation to the Barre Division A. O. H. No. 1 and the L. A. A. O. H. No. 2 to attend the installation of officers at Montpelier, Tuesday, January 19, 1909.

Also, aged sixteen months and a twin son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles March of 62 Railroad street, died this morning after a two weeks' illness with meningitis. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the house on Railroad street.

An exchange of pulpits had been planned by the Rev. F. A. Poole of the Barre Congregational church and the Rev. Donald Fraser of the Berlin church yesterday morning, but the attempt was given up because the storm made team travel difficult. They will exchange next Sunday.

A second order of the Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan, a companion of Snadah Temple of this city, is to be formed in Rutland, where twenty-five Knights of Pythias members have already signified their intention to join. Their first meeting was held last Friday evening.

Charles H. Campbell, formerly of this city, has been elected a director of the board of trade at Old Orchard Beach, Me. The organization gave a banquet and entertainment recently, at which various responses were given, each speaker telling of the advantages of Old Orchard.

Miss Carriso and her troupe of performing Bears open week's engagement (except Wednesday) at the opera house to-night. This act comes from Rutland, where they have been performing for the past week to immense crowds at the opera house. In connection with three reels of the latest pictures, it will make a big hour and a half show. There will be a matinee every day except Wednesday at 3:00; evenings at 7:00 and 8:30. Admission 10c.

On next Wednesday evening, Mr. Eugene Walter's play, which scored a signal success here on Oct. 22, will again be seen at the opera house. "The Wolf" is a simple, affecting story of goodness in conflict with evil. The locale is strange and picturesque, the types rough and impressive. Andrew McLaughlin, a narrow minded, stubborn Scotchman, who married a Swedish woman and then hated her because she brought into the world a daughter, instead of the son he wanted. After abusing her, until in desperation, she runs away with another man, he vents his spite on his daughter. The three acts of the play cover the crucial day of this girl's life, when she is saved by an honest suitor, Jules Beauchamp, a French-Canadian, from the snare set for her undoing by a married man, an American civil engineer.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Sale black silk at Vaughan's.

Roller skating at the pavilion tonight.

P. N. corsets are noted for their durability. At Perry's.

Richard Grigg went to Boston yesterday on a business trip.

For accurate watch and clock repairs, Gordon Haddell, 24 Elm street.

Miss Bell Billie left this morning for Randolph to visit with friends.

G. L. Dwinell of Marshfield was a visitor in this city Saturday.

C. H. Bickford went to Randolph yesterday for a visit with relatives.

V. D. Blake of Marshfield visited at the home of E. H. Clark over Sunday.

Harry and Ernest Folsom of Marshfield were visitors in the city Saturday.

The Hospital benefit hall will be held in Woodmen's hall, Thursday evening, Jan. 28.

It is estimated that a foot and a half of snow fell from daylight to daylight yesterday.

P. M. Besse, who has been in the city on business and visiting friends for the past week, leaves tomorrow for Boston.

Wait for the turkey supper to be given by the Ruth Chapter, O. E. S., in Masonic banquet hall, Wednesday evening, Feb. 3.

Miss Rose Fratini finished work at the Arcade department store, Saturday night and left to-day for a visit with friends in Westbury, N. Y.

Tonight at the opera house "Mile Carrino" and her performing bears. Matinee every day except Wednesday at 2:00; evenings at 7:00 and 8:30.

The Mission Study Class of the "Church of the Good Shepherd" will hold its regular meeting—as first announced—Thursday evening, January 21, at 7:30 o'clock, at the residence, 60 Washington street. Every woman of the parish is asked to be present. Subject, Bishop Hare's Work Among the Indians of South Dakota.

A charter for a local branch of the quarry workers' union was granted to-day from the headquarters in this city for a branch of the organization in Granville, Mo. The local is the outcome of the work of organizer Jesse Miller of Granville and starts with 42 members. Mr. Miller is now working in the organization of branches at Ash Grove and Carthage, Missouri.

The branch Central Vermont train due here at 9:36 this forenoon got stuck in a snowdrift on the tracks between Montpelier and Barre and did not arrive here in time to make the 11:40 trip back to Montpelier. There were a dozen passengers waiting to take the southbound train and they were sent out on the 12:20 Wells River train. The main line train was held until the Wells River train arrived and the passengers transferred.

The feature picture today at the Bijou theatre is the "Gibson and the Tramp," and will it may be featured, for it is a picture of rare excellence. "Time Flies Backward" is another film of general interest, and one that should take with the crowds today and tomorrow.

The other picture in the program is a beautiful picture legend founded on historical facts. The song is especially pretty. "The Girl from the Golden West" is the title, and it will be sung by C. W. Lawford.

The 17th annual reunion and banquet of the New England Alumni association of the University of Vermont will be held at the Young's Hotel in Boston on Friday evening, January 29, at six o'clock. It is expected that President Buckham and Dr. H. C. Tinkham, dean of the medical department will be among the speakers.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION
WANTED AT ONCE—Ten stone cutters, good workmen to work in the West. Apply Book for particulars. 2601

LOST—Between Maple Ave. and Woodmen's Hall—child's hand bracelet. Finder please return to Union Clothing Co., and receive reward. 2601

WANTED—Party to take interest in millinery business established in Boston many years, now doing successful business on Boylston St., Boston. Capital $25,000. Best security. $2,000 for one-half interest. Miller, Suite No. 1, 122 West Newton St. Boston, Mass. 2601

He glanced at the girl. She was quite unmoved. The landscape was apparently quite as absorbing as ever. The back was certainly no whit less uncompromising.

"I've been ill treated, old man," Kenworthy went on. "I wanted to explain it all to her, but she wouldn't listen."

At that moment a Persian kitten came stalking across the lawn, paused irresolutely beneath the trees and then jumped into Alicia's lap.

"Teddy, you dear," cried the girl, stroking the kitten's white coat, "you knew I wanted to tell you something about men, didn't you?"

Kenworthy picked up his ears.

"Teddy," she went on confidentially, "all men are horrid—selfish and horrid. You can't trust any of them."

Kenworthy smiled at the dog.

"Between you and me, Rajah," said he, "I think the sum and substance of the whole matter is jealousy."

"Imagine my being jealous, Teddy," said the girl scornfully. "Who on earth would I be jealous of?"

"I imagine it's the Bronson girl, Rajah," said Kenworthy.

"The Bronson girl goes automobile quite frequently of late," said the girl to the kitten. "And she's such a horrid little flirt! She boasted when she came here she'd have a spin in every car in town. I did think, Teddy—"

"By Jove, it is jealousy!" said Kenworthy, forgetting to address his remarks to the dog.

"Didn't I tell you men were horrid, Teddy?" said Alicia, with much conviction.

Kenworthy chuckled softly.

"Do you suppose she really cares if I did take the Bronson girl for a spin, Rajah?" he asked.

"He was to come here at 4 yesterday afternoon, Teddy," she said. "It was half past 5 before he came. I'm glad he found such congenial company."

"See here, Rajah," said Kenworthy, "the explanation she refused to listen to I shall tell to you."

"Aren't men clever at explaining, Teddy?" asked the girl, with sarcasm.

"You see," Kenworthy went on, patting the dog, "I started out in the car to run over here yesterday afternoon. When I got to the old Bassett place there was Jim Culver lying flat on the ground beneath that ramshackle of his. 'I'm busted,' says Jim to me, 'and know I wanted to tell you something about men, didn't you?"

Kenworthy picked up his ears.

"Teddy," she went on confidentially, "all men are horrid—selfish and horrid. You can't trust any of them."

Kenworthy smiled at the dog.

"Between you and me, Rajah," said he, "I think the sum and substance of the whole matter is jealousy."

"Imagine my being jealous, Teddy," said the girl scornfully. "Who on earth would I be jealous of?"

"I imagine it's the Bronson girl, Rajah," said Kenworthy.

"The Bronson girl goes automobile quite frequently of late," said the girl to the kitten. "And she's such a horrid little flirt! She boasted when she came here she'd have a spin in every car in town. I did think, Teddy—"

"By Jove, it is jealousy!" said Kenworthy, forgetting to address his remarks to the dog.

"Didn't I tell you men were horrid, Teddy?" said Alicia, with much conviction.

Kenworthy chuckled softly.

"Do you suppose she really cares if I did take the Bronson girl for a spin, Rajah?" he asked.

"He was to come here at 4 yesterday afternoon, Teddy," she said. "It was half past 5 before he came. I'm glad he found such congenial company."

"See here, Rajah," said Kenworthy, "the explanation she refused to listen to I shall tell to you."

"Aren't men clever at explaining, Teddy?" asked the girl, with sarcasm.

"You see," Kenworthy went on, patting the dog, "I started out in the car to run over here yesterday afternoon. When I got to the old Bassett place there was Jim Culver lying flat on the ground beneath that ramshackle of his. 'I'm busted,' says Jim to me, 'and know I wanted to tell you something about men, didn't you?"

Kenworthy picked up his ears.

"Teddy," she went on confidentially, "all men are horrid—selfish and horrid. You can't trust any of them."

Kenworthy smiled at the dog.

"Between you and me, Rajah," said he, "I think the sum and substance of the whole matter is jealousy."

"Imagine my being jealous, Teddy," said the girl scornfully. "Who on earth would I be jealous of?"

"I imagine it's the Bronson girl, Rajah," said Kenworthy.

"The Bronson girl goes automobile quite frequently of late," said the girl to the kitten. "And she's such a horrid little flirt! She boasted when she came here she'd have a spin in every car in town. I did think, Teddy—"

"By Jove, it is jealousy!" said Kenworthy, forgetting to address his remarks to the dog.

"Didn't I tell you men were horrid, Teddy?" said Alicia, with much conviction.

Kenworthy chuckled softly.

"Do you suppose she really cares if I did take the Bronson girl for a spin, Rajah?" he asked.

"He was to come here at 4 yesterday afternoon, Teddy," she said. "It was half past 5 before he came. I'm glad he found such congenial company."

"See here, Rajah," said Kenworthy, "the explanation she refused to listen to I shall tell to you."

"Aren't men clever at explaining, Teddy?" asked the girl, with sarcasm.

"You see," Kenworthy went on, patting the dog, "I started out in the car to run over here yesterday afternoon. When I got to the old Bassett place there was Jim Culver lying flat on the ground beneath that ramshackle of his. 'I'm busted,' says Jim to me, 'and know I wanted to tell you something about men, didn't you?"

Kenworthy picked up his ears.

"Teddy," she went on confidentially, "all men are horrid—selfish and horrid. You can't trust any of them."

Kenworthy smiled at the dog.

"Between you and me, Rajah," said he, "I think the sum and substance of the whole matter is jealousy."

"Imagine my being jealous, Teddy," said the girl scornfully. "Who on earth would I be jealous of?"

"I imagine it's the Bronson girl, Rajah," said Kenworthy.

A. P. ABBOTT & CO. A. P. ABBOTT & CO. A. P. ABBOTT & CO.

The Daylight Store

January 16 Ends Our Clearance Sale

And yet we have some odd lots and broken sizes of goods we do not want to take in stock. We rather have part of what they cost us than carry them into the next year's business. Here is a chance for you to make a good gain by our loss. This sale ends one of the most successful Clearance Sales we ever held. The next ten days will close out all surplus stock if prices are any object.

Children's Coats

Here are a lot of Children's Crushed Velour Coats in blue, brown, green and grey—Coats that sold at $3.98, now to close at $2.00.

At $1.50 are a half dozen Silk Bear Coats in light colors. These are a good value and are Coats that were $2.98.

At $2.00 are what we have left in Colored and White Silk Bear Coats. These are the early and broadtail Coats, with quilted linings. Coats that were good values at $3.98.

At $1.00 are some odd Coats in cloth and silk broadtail goods. Coats that are made for warmth as well as service, are quilted lined and Coats that sold at $5.50 and $5.98.

At half price are a few Cloth Coats in a heavy all wool mixed goods, are a good, warm, serviceable garment. This is a good opportunity to buy for next season.

Misses' Coats

At $2.98 are some odd Coats in sizes from 8 to 14 years. These are some heavy all wool Cloth Coats, with a good Farmer's satin lining. Coats that sold at $8.75, $10.00, to $12.00, and were a good value.

At $3.50 are a few Misses' Cloth Coats, made of good all wool cloths and lined throughout. These are Coats that have sold at $5.75 to $7.00, sizes 5 to 12 years.

At $5.00 are a few fine Broadcloth Coats, with quilted linings. Coats that are our best values, and a natty style. These are Coats that have sold at $6.50 and $10.00. Sizes from 6 to 12 years.

At $7.50 are a couple of Misses' Silk Velour Coats in 10 and 12 years sizes. These were extra values and sold at $15.

In the Misses' Junior sizes are a few odd Coats in the best of style and quality, to close at one-half the original price.

Ladies' Colored Coats

What we have left of our Ladies' Colored Cloth Coats go into this (ten days) clean up sale at just half price. This means you can buy a good styled warm Coat at less than the cost of material.

At $6.00 are a few Plain Cloth Coats, made in good style and lined throughout, are Coats that have been selling at $12.00.

At $7.50 are all of our Plain and Mixed Cloth Coats that have sold at $18.00. These are our best heavy mixed cloth Coats, and Broadcloth Coats, with fine satin linings.

At $12.50 are all of our best Cloth Coats in plain and mixed goods that have been selling at $25.00 and $28.00.

We are making these extra low prices on the best merchandise we ever put out to get the money before invoicing. This is a good chance to buy for another season.

A. P. Abbott & Co.

The Cat and Dog of It.

[Copyrighted, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.]

By all the laws and the prophets of precedent Kenworthy should have made a speedy exit at the height of the quarrel. In staying on when the final word had been said and grim silence had succeeded the heated accusations and counter accusations he was guilty of an anticlimax. But Kenworthy was no respecter of precedent, and at present it mattered not a rap to him whether he was guilty of an anticlimax or not. He only knew that he was utterly miserable and that the view he had of Alicia's back—turned to him with an obviousness not to be gainsaid—was in nowise encouraging.

He sat in the hammock, his face a study of contradicting emotions, gazing abstractedly at Alicia and pulling the silky ears of Rajah, the brindle bull terrier that lolled beside him. Twice he essayed to speak, but each time as he raised his eyes and caught sight of that uncompromising back the words died on his lips.

At length he looked down at the dog. A whimsical smile curved his lips, and he looked grimly toward Alicia, who to all intents was interested in the distant landscape.

"Rajah, old boy," he said, addressing the dog, "it strikes me that women are getting very unfair these days. They accuse a chap